

Programme of the Low Budget Press Trip Dutch Dairy – Innovations in emission

23-26 March 2023

Leeuwarden / Friesland, The Netherlands

The Dutch agriculture and the dairy sector in particular are under heavy political and social pressure to reduce emissions. The radical interventions planned by the government have led to violent farm protest. It is clear that the farmers have to react to the new challenges.

The Dutch Guild of Agricultural Journalists NVLJ and ENAJ are inviting you to a press trip covering possible approaches to emission reductions that have measurable positive effects to the environment and don't strangle agriculture in the same time. You will meet farmers, policy makers, researchers, scientists and other stakeholders explaining you the situation in detail. We would be very happy to welcome you on this trip!

Participation fee and number of participants:

185 Euros. See registration form for transfer details. 25 participants (max. 2 per country).

Included in the fee:

- Three overnight stays in a group lodging on a former farm, sharing rooms based on availability.
- Meals on Thursday evening, Friday, Saturday and breakfast on Sunday
- Bus transportation on Friday and Saturday
- Pickup from Leeuwarden train station can be arranged on request

Not included in the fee:

- Travel arrangement to the accommodation on your day of arrival

Accommodation:

Gast op Stal, Wyns 28, 9091BD Wyns, The Netherlands
